

How Oncology Transcription Company Assists Medical Oncologists

Medical transcription services provided by reliable companies cater to any or all the requirements of oncology transcription. An experienced medical transcription company could offer cost-effective, accurate and comprehensive transcription of oncology reports.

Features of Outsourcing Oncology Transcription

Oncology medical transcription services can serve the requirements of medical oncologists, surgical oncologists, radiation oncologists, pediatric oncologists and oncology research centers. Some of the key top features of oncology transcription include:

- . Dictation of medical professionals captured through digital recorder or dial-in toll free server
- . Quality assurance of transcripts carried out through three levels of checks by medical editors and proofreaders
- . File transfer carried out through secure File Transfer Protocol or 256-bit browser-based AES encryption.
- . Advanced software indexes and dictionaries employed for ensuring accuracy in transcribing medical terms and jargon
- . Competitive pricing that may be negotiated based on factors such as for instance specialty requirements of the client, level of transcription, dictation type, turnaround time and requirements of document flow management.

Features Aiding Efficiency

Quality is everything for oncology transcription as are security and confidentiality. Some of the key facets of medical transcription outsourcing services given by a skilled company that add to the efficiency of the service include:

- . Capacity to accept multiple dictations simultaneously and record in great clarity
- . Evaluation of each transcription work with the client for customization according with their needs
- . Customization of turnaround times based on individual client needs
- . Reports on transcripts provided to show file progress
- . Physicians are allowed to modify dictation throughout the transcription process
- . Generation of billing reports

Security, Confidentiality and Accuracy Ensured

An experienced medical transcription company employs hi-tech solutions to make sure security and confidentiality for the documents. It offers clients with a choice of choosing between onshore and offshore transcription. Another of the advantages is the fact the technologically advanced solutions ensure 98% accuracy is maintained even if there are aggressive turnaround time requirements. Customized turnaround times are given by experienced transcription companies for an additional charge. These turnaround times could even be within 24 hours, dependant on the quantity of transcription.

About the Author

Emergency medical transcription services may also be provided by experienced companies regarding Melanoma surgeon in Miami. The staff includes trained and experienced transcribers, editors, proofreaders and also special medical language specialists that are familiar with all kinds of medical jargon, terminologies and procedures. The multiple degrees of quality checks conducted by these professionals ensure accuracy. These are a number of the ways how oncology transcription service helps surgical oncologists.