

How Oncology Transcription Service Helps Surgical Oncologists

Advantages of Outsourcing Oncology Transcription

Oncology medical transcription services can serve the requirements of medical oncologists, surgical oncologists, radiation oncologists, pediatric oncologists and oncology research centers. Some of the key features of oncology transcription include:

- . Dictation of medical professionals captured through digital recorder or dial-in toll free server
- . Quality assurance of transcripts carried out through three levels of checks by medical editors and proofreaders
- . File transfer carried out through secure File Transfer Protocol or 256-bit browser-based AES encryption.
- . Advanced software indexes and dictionaries employed for ensuring accuracy in transcribing medical terms and jargon
- . Competitive pricing that can be negotiated centered on factors such as specialty requirements of the client, level of transcription, dictation type, turnaround time and requirements of document flow management.

Features Aiding Efficiency

Quality is everything for oncology transcription as are security and confidentiality. A number of the key facets of medical transcription outsourcing services provided by a skilled company that enhance the efficiency of the service include:

- . Capacity to simply accept multiple dictations simultaneously and record in great clarity
- . Evaluation of each transcription work with the client for customization according for their needs
- . Customization of turnaround times based on individual client needs
- . Reports on transcripts provided to show file progress
- . Physicians are allowed to change dictation through the transcription process
- . Generation of billing reports

Security, Confidentiality and Accuracy Ensured

A skilled medical transcription company employs high tech solutions to make certain security and confidentiality for your documents. It provides clients with an option of choosing between onshore and offshore transcription. Another of the advantages is the truth that the technologically advanced solutions ensure 98% accuracy is maintained even when you will find aggressive turnaround time requirements. Customized turnaround times are supplied by experienced transcription companies for yet another charge. These turnaround times could even be within 24 hours, depending upon the quantity of transcription.

About the Author

Emergency medical transcription services Melanoma surgeon in Miami are also offered by experienced companies. The staff consists of trained and experienced transcribers, editors, proofreaders and also special medical language specialists who're acquainted with all kinds of medical jargon, terminologies and procedures. The multiple quantities of quality checks conducted by these professionals ensure accuracy. They're some of the ways how oncology transcription service helps surgical oncologists.