

Photo Booth Rentals - Guidelines to Perfect Your Experience

So, you're already chose to jazz up your wedding reception or corporate party with a photograph booth and desire to make sure that your guests take the fullest advantageous asset of it? Here are a few insight tips about steps to make your photo booth experience a complete hit.

1. Placement. The placement of your photobooth is very important. Try to create it down in a highly visible area near the action. The perfect spot is alongside the bar and/or dance floor. Also, be sure that the location of one's photobooth is somehow lit, so it's not placed in the dark corner of the room. People exiting the photobooth should enjoy their prints and to be able to see and sign your guest book/scrapbook. Being in the business of photo booth rentals for decades we surely got to start to see the raw emotions of happiness people laughing aloud, waiting anxiously by the print/scrapbook station, gathering in groups to judge their latest adventure in the photobooth and then having fun decorating a scrapbook.
2. Size really matters. In place of a small old fashion photo "box" that fits only 2-3 people, rent an expert photobooth made for large groups. It surely makes the difference. It's so much fun to watch 20 of one's guests squeal with excitement because they pile in to a booth. The more the merrier!
3. Announcements/reminders. Make sure you let your guests learn about a photobooth, its location and that it is available in their mind at no cost. Ask your DJ or MC to create announcements about your photo booth throughout the night. Place table cards featuring information about it; provide an email at the spot setting.
4. Utilization of props. Want to really enhance your photo booth rental? Props are an absolute must have for weddings, corporate parties, bar/bat mitzvahs, dance parties, quinceaneras, holiday parties, graduations, proms, family reunions, fundraisers and other events because of the fun they encourage. Many photobooth rental companies offer props for yet another cost or include them in their packages. You can also bring your personal props. Here are some ideas: goofy glasses, pirate props, including a parrot, spyglass, eye patches, gold pieces, an earring, knight props, a blade, a shield, a helmet, king and queen crowns, smiles on a stick, mustaches on a stick, glasses with mustaches, noses, and eyebrows, an explorer's hat, a company hat, a construction worker's hat, clown noses, many different wigs, boas, air blown toys and musical instruments, frames, signs, chalkboard speech bubbles, feather fans, fancy hats, angel wings, devil pitchfork, animal ears, noses, tails and much more.
5. External monitor. Find a business that gives an additional monitor playing a slide show of the pictures taken in the photobooth. It usually attracts a crowd and is a big success with the guests, creating hilarious moments and giving them ideas for posing.

Rent a photobooth from a specialist photo booth rental company. The photo booth attendant(s) will ensure that everything goes smoothly at your event and guarantee the success.
