

How Oncology Transcription Company Assists Precise Oncologists

Features of Outsourcing Oncology Transcription

Oncology medical transcription services can serve the needs of medical oncologists, surgical oncologists, radiation oncologists, pediatric oncologists and oncology research centers. A few of the key options that come with oncology transcription include:

- . Dictation of medical professionals captured through digital recorder or dial-in toll free server
- . Quality assurance of transcripts carried out through three degrees of checks by medical editors and proofreaders
- . File transfer carried out through secure File Transfer Protocol or 256-bit browser-based AES encryption.
- . Advanced software indexes and dictionaries employed for ensuring accuracy in transcribing medical terms and jargon
- . Competitive pricing that may be negotiated predicated on factors such as specialty requirements of the client, volume of transcription, dictation type, turnaround time and requirements of document flow management.

Features Aiding Efficiency

Quality is everything for oncology transcription as are security and confidentiality. A number of the key aspects of medical transcription outsourcing services supplied by a skilled company that enhance the efficiency of the service include:

- . Capacity to just accept multiple dictations simultaneously and record in great clarity
- . Evaluation of every transcription use the client for customization according to their needs
- . Customization of turnaround times according to individual client needs
- . Reports on transcripts provided to show file progress
- . Physicians are allowed to modify dictation through the transcription process
- . Generation of billing reports

Security, Confidentiality and Accuracy Ensured

An experienced medical transcription company employs hi-tech solutions to make certain security and confidentiality for your documents. It offers clients with a selection of choosing between onshore and offshore transcription. Another of the advantages is the fact that the technologically advanced solutions ensure 98% accuracy is maintained even if you can find aggressive turnaround time requirements. Customized turnaround times are offered by experienced transcription companies for an additional charge. These turnaround times might even be within 24 hours, based upon the quantity of transcription.

Emergency medical transcription services are also offered by experienced companies. The staff contains trained and experienced transcribers, editors, proofreaders and also special medical language specialists who are acquainted with all sorts of medical jargon, terminologies and procedures.

About the Author

The multiple degrees of quality checks conducted by these professionals ensure accuracy regarding Gastric cancer surgeon in Miami. They are a few of the ways how oncology transcription service helps surgical oncologists.