2. Look for both practical and stylish winter attire.

Some guys forget that when the weather cools down, you can still look stylish. Some men are so focused on staying warm that they leave look trendy as a last priority. However, you can actually do both, as long as you find the right staples to keep you warm.

Cool sweaters for guys are an absolute must, from chunky cable knit sweaters to distressed colorblock knitwear. Instead of going for a loose-fit knit top, you can try men's fashion sweaters in form-fitting designs that'll show off your physique. When it comes to men's designer jackets, you'll want to find outerwear for both casual occasions and formal events. Men's leather jackets or bomber jackets with fur interior lining are edgy staples for an everyday look. For upscale parties, you can try cool jackets for men in floor-length designs, like military trench coats or wool pea coats.

3. Stylish men's pants can make all the difference.

Pants are the essentials that'll pull together your entire look. You can add life to your wardrobe with men's colored jeans paired with neutral men's fashion shirts. Just remember not to overdue it by layering a brightly colored top with bright green jeans. It's all about balance. For example, you'll look incredibly handsome in beige men's linen pants paired with a striped men's fashion vest for a sleek office look. One item doesn't overwhelm the other.

Mix and match cool shirts for men with form-fitting pants that'll also look good on your body type. You can take on stylish denim styles, like men's destroyed jeans or men's tapered jeans, in slimming styles. Accentuate your legs with skinny cargo pants, or go for a slightly looser style with slim fit cargo pants.

4. Summer is the season to experiment with sexy looks.

When the weather gets hot, you'll want to look just as hot in the coolest beachwear, athleisure and outdoor workout clothing.

If you're after stylish men's swimwear, don't be afraid to experiment with different styles that lean on the form-fitting side. Kick back and relax at the pool in men's bikini swimwear. Get a leg-baring look in short swim trunks, or get bootylicious in gay shorts for all eyes on you.
